Zanesville Museum of Art Receives Grant for Live Concerts at the Museum

ZANESVILLE, Ohio– The Zanesville Museum of Art has received a grant from the Taylor-McHenry Memorial Fund for its upcoming series of live musical performances at the museum. These Concerts at the Museum begin in February 2023.

“We’re so grateful for the continued support of the Taylor-McHenry Memorial Fund,” stated ZMA Education Coordinator Misty Johnson. “The Concerts at the Museum series has been a great success in the past and it’s exciting to have this new partnership.”

About the Program

Continuing a successful partnership with Columbus Musicians, LLC, the ZMA will provide free, exceptional live musical performances in the museum’s 2nd floor atrium. This new concert series has several main objectives:

1. Provide the community with complimentary access to exceptional live musical performances.
2. Introduce audiences to a diverse and dynamic range of professional performances and performers at the museum—outside of the traditional theater setting.
3. Promote greater awareness of the museum as a community resource for visual and performing arts experiences by appealing to broader audiences through the new Columbus Musicians, LLC partnership.

The Concerts at the Museum Series is one part of the museum's overall programming plan, which intends to generate cultural awareness, break down barriers and nurture partnerships, and grow the museum's resources to provide increased programming opportunities in the community.

Upcoming Concerts at the Museum

Thursday, February 9, 2023, Love and all That Jazz featuring the Tony Hagood Jazz Trio.

Thursday, March 9, 2023, Fiddle of Gold featuring Dogwood Road

Thursday, April 13, 2023, Acoustic Oldies featuring the Bob Piascik Duo

Thursday, May 11, 2023, Contemporary Percussion featuring Cameron Leach

Thursday, June 8, 2023, Classical Guitar and Mandolin featuring Gruviera Armonico

The generous continued support from the Taylor-McHenry Memorial Foundation allows the museum to put on these exciting programs and much more for the community.
