Zanesville Museum of Art Celebrates Giving Tuesday

Zanesville, Ohio—The Zanesville Museum of Art will participate in the national day of giving known as Giving Tuesday on November 27, 2018. This is the first year the museum will participate in the initiative to raise money for vital mission-related activities. All proceeds will benefit Zanesville Museum of Art.

Donations have allowed the museum to...

- Bring etchings by famous Dutch artist Rembrandt to the museum for a unique exhibition.
- Conserve paintings such as Epic of the Sea, attributed to Theodore Gericault, and Harbor Scene, by an unknown 18th-century artist, through the Intermuseum Conservation Association.
- Display countless pieces of Roseville, Weller, and other local pottery.
- Strengthen its school tour program, giving students all over the county the opportunity to experience the visual arts at no charge.

The ZMA encourages anyone who wants to help bring future exhibitions to the museum, conserve the heritage of the community, or allow their children or grandchildren to go on a tour to consider donating. Those who wish to donate can visit www.zanesvilleart.org or call (740) 452-0741. All donations will go toward mission-related activities at the museum.
